

Today, your Negotiating Committee stood strong and made the IAM proud of the Brothers and Sisters that make up its Membership. After dedicated weeks of Negotiations, we have come to a successful closure of these Collective Bargaining talks.

By noon tomorrow, we will post a link to Lockheed Martin's Last, Best and Final Offer for your perusal as we are waiting for the paperwork to be completed and finalized. Your Negotiating Committee unanimously supports this Contract.

For the tireless hours, the missed time at home, the dinners spent pouring over paperwork and the emotions experienced throughout this process - You can be proud of the work done by your Negotiating Committee and the Members who represented you during Bargaining. They made sure that the Voice of the Machinists was heard not just at the table, but throughout the Aerospace Industry. Once again, the IAM leads the way for Working America.
